MEDIA ADVISORY

TEXAS RANGERS PITCHER DARREN OLIVER TO PARTICIPATE IN MARTIN LUTHER KING DAY OF SERVICE ON MONDAY AT WESLEY CENTER IN FORT WORTH

Event in conjunction with Texas Rangers Baseball Foundation begins at 9:00 a.m.

ARLINGTON, TX—Texas Rangers pitcher Darren Oliver will participate in a volunteer effort led by the Volunteer Center of North Texas at the Wesley Center in Fort Worth on Monday, January 17 as part of the Martin Luther King Day of Service.

Oliver will join several groups of volunteers at the Wesley Center. The volunteers will be students from the Diamond Hill Jarvis High School Mentorship Program, which is sponsored by the Texas Rangers Baseball Foundation, mentors from Volunteers of America who partner with that program, students from Fort Worth ISD, representatives from the Volunteer Center of North Texas, and Texas Rangers front office employees.

The volunteers will be doing a few painting projects, clothing separation, food pantry separation, and clean up in the neighborhood surrounding the Wesley Center.

The event will take place from 9:00 a.m. until 12 noon. Oliver is expected to speak at the opening ceremony, which will be held at 9:00 a.m.

This marks the second consecutive year that Oliver has participated with the Volunteer Center of North Texas in the Martin Luther King Day of Service in Fort Worth.

All media are invited to cover this event. Wesley Center, which is part of the United Community Center, is located at 3600 North Crump in Fort Worth (76106).

For more information, please contact Ashley Hyder of the Volunteer Center of North Texas at 214-826-6767, ext. 236 (ahyder@volunteernorthtexas.org) or the Rangers Communications Department at 817-273-5203.

Thank you for your attention.
